

More from Spain!

Mesta is a stylish showcase of the Spanish wine revolution situated in Ucles, Central Castile, the vineyards are sustainably managed & organically farmed as part of an integrated ecosystem. Fertilisers have never been used & weed control is managed by low superficial tilling, giving great purity to the wines. The name Mesta was a powerful alliance of medieval sheep ranchers that controlled the right of way for migrating sheep, which still remains today as a model of coexistence with nature.
