

Keep your birds comfortable and healthy.

View this email in your browser

08/04/2017

This week's top features

With temperatures set to rise this weekend, it's especially important to keep a close eye on housed birds to ensure they remain comfortable & healthy.

Guidance on looking after housed birds during hot weather is available on GOV.UK

 Department for Environment Food & Rural Affairs

Update to poultry owners in High Risk Zones

Due to the warm weather this weekend, there is a concern for the welfare of housed birds in the High Risk Zones across the UK.

Birds in temporary housing may be at risk of overheating if it gets really hot. Their welfare is paramount, so have a look at the Defra guidance on biosecurity and housing.

You should seek advice from your vet if there are any potential concerns about welfare.

Product Recalls

Fraud and Scam Advice

Consumer Rights

Checkatrade.com
Where reputation matters

